Call to Join: The 6G Forum is Calling for All Interested

Cairo – October 20, 2018: Hatim Zaghloul Academy Inc. is inviting all researchers and companies developing mobile devices and networks to participate in the development of a standard for 6G mobile networks. The basic idea of this standard is that we will forego an increase in speed in favor of harmonizing networks and building a standard for a network of networks whereby each network however small will be treated as part of the overall communications network maximizing the use of free services such as WhatsApp, Viber, IMO and others and interconnecting them with each other. The standard will have hooks for incorporating social networks, internet of things, online education, online health care, and others.

Interested parties are asked to sign the attached agreement. It does not obligate the researcher/company to any spending. It gives those joining before November 30th founding members status with extra privilledges. It lists a number of topics that should be incorporated into the standard. All issues are to be determined democratically through voting.
